Speaking on:

“A Brief History of Trees in America”

Discover how important trees were in the development of our country; from building basic shelter, keeping in livestock, crafting furniture & utensils, to the building of ships and railroads. Trees have given us shade on a hot day, inspired poetry and literature, as well as provided wood to keep us warm on a cold night. The devastation of our forests by the Emerald Ash Borer has brought new meaning to why we treasure and need to protect all of our trees.
